PROCEDURE UPON HUNS' ARRIVAL IN VERSAILLES FIXED

President Wilson and Premiers
Will Deliver Treaty and Attend First Meeting of Belligerent Powers.

PARIS, April 18. (By the Associated Press.)—The procedure on the arrival of the German plenipotentiaries at Versailles has virtually been decided upon. It will be President Wilson and the premiers who will hold the first meeting and deliver the treaty, as it is not deemed feasible to have all the allied powers attend this initial session.

The actual arrival of the Germans at Versailles is stated, is scheduled for Friday night, April 22, but the meeting with the president and premiers will not be held until Saturday and may even be deferred until Sunday.

After the treaty is actually delivered it is intended to allow adequate time for the Germans to make inquiries concerning various details before returning to Weimar. This is expected to take about two days, the first day being devoted by the Germans to familiarizing themselves with the terms, and the second day to answering queries. It is assumed the character of a discussion, but necessary the elucidation of any points which may arise in relation to the prompt and favorable action when the plenipotentiaries return to Weimar.

It is believed the stay of the plenipotentiaries at Weimar will cover a week, thus bringing them back to Versailles about May 8 to 10. This, however, is conjectural, for it is dependent upon the rapidity of the decisions reached at Weimar.

Premier Lloyd George's declaration in the British parliament that France had been given full guarantees against a renewal of German attacks is the first authoritative statement that such guarantees have been given and arouses the keenest discussion regarding guarantees affecting the United States and Great Britain. The French reports say that the guarantees are of an alliance, and the semi-official Temps says:

Only One Meaning.

Premier Lloyd George's language admits of only one meaning. This is that Great Britain and the United States engage to sustain France in case she is again attacked by Germany. Such an alliance is legitimate and necessary.

Other French reports describe the guarantees as in the nature of a casus foederis, whereby any failure of Germany to carry out the treaty would bring concerted action by France, Great Britain and the United States. The council of four, which framed the guarantees as part of the Rhine settlement, has thus far maintained silence except for the general declaration of Mr. Lloyd George.

Vicount China, of the Japanese delegation, arranged yesterday for his appearance before the council of four on Saturday on the King-Chau question, with a view to an adjustment with China which shall be incorporated in the peace treaty. The American delegates believe that an accord will be reached whereby China will ultimately control Kiao-Chau, with suitable recognition of Japan's efforts.

A primary session of the peace conference will be held two days next week, Wednesday and Thursday, for passing upon a large number of remaining details before the meeting with the Germans.

The drafting of the final form of the peace treaty is proceeding rapidly in order to have it ready for presentation to the German delegates when they arrive at Versailles a week hence. This document, as framed, begins with an introduction in the form of a protocol, setting forth the complete list of belligerent powers taking part in the war and now making peace, with the designation of plenipotentiaries of each country and with their power to sign.

Peace in Thirty Words.

Then comes a declaration of impressive brevity, not exceeding 30 words, stating that on the conclusion of the treaty and the exchange of ratification, the war shall come to an end. Following the declaration of ratification, the present intention of the peace delegates is to have the covenant of the league of nations occupy the place of honor in the treaty and to be the first subject treated in detail. It will thus take the priority it had in the program of the peace conference.

Then, in succession, will follow the military, naval and aerial terms, reparations, responsibility, the Rhine frontier, the Saar region, Alsace-Lorraine, Poland, the status of Danzig as an international port, Germany's Schleswig-Holstein frontier and a large number of special subjects, including the labor convention adopted at the last general session of the conference; international ports and waterways, and extended economic and financial provisions directly connected with reparations. The textual form of all these divisions has been completed so that the work at present going on is chiefly fitting together the parts into a homogenous whole.

FIRST TRAIN OF POLISH TROOPS LOST IN GERMANY

COBLENZ, April 18. (By the Associated Press.)—The first train of Polish troops being taken to Poland became lost soon after entering occupied districts of Germany. The train pulled in to Treves late Wednesday and, because of the misunderstanding of orders on the part of German railroad men, it was sent to Cologne instead of to Coblenz. When the soldiers looked from their car windows and discovered they were in Cologne there was some excitement on board the train, but allied officers soon ascertained out the misunderstanding and the train was brought to this city.

HUN OFFICIAL IS ILL.

BERLIN, April 18. (By the Associated Press.)—Dr. Adolf Muller, German minister to Switzerland and one of the members of the German delegation to the peace conference, is ill and Herr Lettner, president of the Prussian assembly, will replace him as peace delegate.

Nurse Tells Story Of Insulting Hun In French Hospital

FORREST CITY, Ark., April 18. (Sp.)—In addressing the Victory loan crowd here yesterday, Miss Katherine Shields, one of America's own heroines, who is just back from France, spoke of an arrogant and insulting young Prussian who came under her care and who all the time was scowling and sulky, spoke to her in a sneering and beastly manner one day just as he was leaving the operating table. "Hi! You ugly fellow! You've got us whipped, but you haven't! With the hot blood of passion rushing to her cheeks, even at the memory of the incident, Miss Shields shouted:

"You know what I told that insulting scoundrel, good people? I told him to get on back to his ward and be quick about it, and I said to him: 'If you were not down and out and crippled, and we did not have your obligation to our responsibility for you, I'd kill you.' We were on a high tension, with wounded whose body three bullets had passed above the waist line. This boy said: 'You can't do anything for me. I'm dying and I know it, and I'm not afraid to go. Just stretch me out somewhere and let me die here by me just a moment while I tell you what I want to write to my mother and my sweet heart back home. Oh, I tell you, good people, those were the times when it seemed that our hearts would almost break.'"
